THEIR NINTH ANNUAL CONVENTION.

The Meetings Being Held in the Seventh Street Christian Church-Proceedings of Yesterday's Sessions_Notes.

The ninth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Virginia met in the basement of the Seventh-street Christian church yesterday morning, and was called to order at 10:45 o'clock by Mrs. R. H. Jones. of Norfolk, the State president. Mrs. Howard M. Hoge, of Loudon county, performed the duties of secretary, while Mrs. Caroline B. Buel, the handsome and intelligent national secretary of the organization, occupied a seat on the stand and was on motion made a member of the convention.

A motion was made and unanimously carried to provide a reportera' table and invite the newspaper representatives of the city to attend each session.

Captain McIhaney, of Staunton, who is a member of the Temperance Alliance, was in-troduced and briefly expressed his interest in the cause for which the convention was work-the cause for which the convention was working, and paid a high compliment to the reaults of their work.

Mrs. Buel then addressed the convention in a few remarks, encouraging the delegates and urging them to more enthusiasm and greater work and more trust in God. The noon hour having arrived the convention spent a few minutes in devotional exercises.
Mrs. W. H. Pleasants, of this city, delivered the welcome address, and Mrs. R. H. Jones responded. Mrs. Buel also made a few graceful remarks on this subject. ful remarks on this subject.

Instructions were given by the convention for suitable telegrams to be sent to the State Convention now in session in Connecticut, to Mrs. Willard and Miss Hannah Whitehall Smith, who was a member of the first Virginia State Convention. The report of the com-mittee on credentials showed that seventyfive delegates were present. After the appointment of committees on resolutions, innance, courtesies and the call of the roll the convention took a recess until 3 P. M. AFTERNOON SESSION.

A few minutes after the appointed time A few minutes after the appointed time they were called to order by the president. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Lee. On motion of Mrs. W. H. Pleasants it was ordered that a telegram of remembrance be sent Mrs. Judge Cockran, of Charlottesville, at one time treasurer of the organization, who is confined at home by Mrs. R. H. Jones, president of the State Union, then read the president's annual address, a paper full of leastiful thoughts upon the work of temperance.

Mrs. Frances Barnes, the national superintendent of the young woman's department, arrived and was introduced to the convention, which she acknowledged in a few grace tion, which she acknowledged in a few graceful remarks.

The annual report of the corresponding secretary was read by Miss Lona Kern, giving in detail the status of the work at all the different parts of the State, which indicated considerable growth in the past tweive months and was encouraging for the future of the overapization. of the organization.

Mrs. Doctor Bectel, of Alexandria, next read the report of young woman's work. This department, while it has not increased in numbers during the year, was shown by the report to be active and doing more work than JUVENILE WORK. Mrs. Wood, of Washington city, superintendent of juvenile work, arrived and was introduced to the convention and briefly re-

The report on the work among the colored people was then read, giving encouraging reports of progress in that direction. This question was discussed by Mrs. R. H. Jones, Mrs. Thomas Whitehead, Mrs. W. H. Pleasants and others. Mrs. Jones thought the most important question confronting the temperance people of Virginia was the col-ored vote, which was generally arrayed against temperance reforms on all occasions. Jones advocated renewed and and Mrs. Jones advocated renewed and greater efforts in educating the colored peo-ple along this line. A lady teacher from Hartshorn College gave encouraging reports of the influence exerted by colored girls trained in temperance matters.

Mrs. Whitehead testified from her own experience of the courtesy of colored men to ladies and the ready response of the colored nature to the work of improvement in their condition in temperance and religious matters. A number of ladies entered into the discus-sion of this question before its close.

The session was closed at 5 o'clock with the long metre dexology.

NIGHT SESSION.

Seventh-street Christian church was filled with a large audience last evening when Mrs. Dr. Esctel called the meeting to order. Rer. C. C. Wertenbaker offered prayer. Mayor Ellyson welcomed the delegates to the hospitalities of Richmond in a brief, but very appropriate address of the second control of the s propriate address, in which he wished them God speed in their work.

A duet was then sung by Miss Lucy Wertenbaker, of this city, and Mr. Moore, of New Jersey, which was of a highly artistic char-

Miss Patterson, a young lady of Culpeper. made a very effective address, showing the effect that young women's efforts might have in moulding public opinion and cultivating a sentiment in society and the home circle against drink. Miss Iris Johson added much to the pleasure of the programme with a well rendered solo.

Mrs. Frances J. Barnes, of New York, the national and also the world's secretary of the young woman's department of the Union made an address of about forty minutes.

Miss Wemple, a pretty young girl from Norfolk College, recited a pathetic piece, and Miss Odel, of the same city, produced from concealment a canary in a shining cage, which she presented in a few spirited remarks which she presented in a few spirited remarks to Mrs. Barnes, as a memorial from the Y's of Virginia. Mrs. Barnes accepted the little songster in a very felicitous manner. The first day's session closed with the doxology and the benediction by Rev. C. C. Wertenbaker.

NOTES.

Mrs. Hoge's minutes, from which the reporters are indebted for much of the published reports of the convention, compare favorably with the secretary work of male societies with which the knights of the pencil have to deal. It is the custom of this body when the noon hour arrives, no matter what the business before the meeting may be, to immediately engage in devotional exercises.

A number of pretty girls who are in attendance as delegates from the young weman's department lend an air of beauty and grace to the neetings that adds much to the interest of on lookers.

terest of on lookers.

The good order and perfect decorum with which yesterday's sessions were conducted would make a good object lesson to similar meetings of the sterner sex.

The delegates to the convention continued to come by every train during the day, they being conducted by committees to either private houses or boarding houses as they arrive.

The mid-day lunch is being served at the St. Clair Hotel, which being only one square from the place of meeting makes it a convenient point for the purpose. Probably by mistake or maybe without thought the des ert was served with wine sauce and inappropriateness to the guests was im-mediately discovered by themselves, and the Its nature

Sauce boycotted.

During the session yesterday afternoon During the session yesterday afternoon Mrs. Barnes asked permission to retire with the young woman delegates for a conference, as she had only a short while to stay. They assembled in one of the reception rooms and Mrs. Barnes and Miss Bectel, State squerintendent of the Y's, discussed the best method of work for the ensuing year. Mrs. Barnes will leave for home by an early train this morning.

Resumed His Practice.

Dr. Robinson, physician to the almshouse, returned to his duties at that institution after two months sickness. It will be remembered that Dr. Robinson was taken suddenly ill at the almshouse while attending to his duties there, and for several weeks could not be moved to his home. He has slowly recovered, however, and is now able to resume his practice.

OUR STATE FAIR.

Almost Everything is in Readiness and the Prospects Are Bright.

The State Fair next week will be. it is be lieved, the finest exhibition ever held in Rich mond. Every stall and every pen has been engaged, and the entries as already recorded will make the fullest exhibit yet had. The Jersey cattle show will be the best ever collected together on any grounds.

For the military display and drill on the 29th a large body of troops are assured. The First Virginia regiment, Richmond Howitzers, Petershare (Frankland) Petersburg Grays, Lynchburg Home Guards, Monticello Guards of Charlottesville, Alexan-

Monticello Guards of Charlottesville, Alexandria Light Infantry Blues, Stuart Horse Guards, Hanover Troop and Chesterfield Troop have so far asked for position in line. Hundreds of vehicles will take the place of the Coney Island cars used at the Exposition and carry visitors for cheap fares. The first gate on the Broad-street side will be used for white terms and complimentaries. exhibitors, employes and complimentaries. Life members and their families will be admitted through the second gate and the main entrance will accommodate the general pub-lic. The entrance fee this year will be fifty cents for adults and twenty-five cents for children.

The entries for the trotting races are all filled and the grade of the horseflesh entered insures some fine trials of speed.

Perhaps the feature that will be of the greatest interest, and certainly the most thrilling, is the wonderful balloon ascensions and parachute leaps of Professor De Cooper and his wonderful St. Bernard dog, Fitzsim-mone, at I o'clock P. M. on the 27th, 28th and 29th. These two will jump from the bal-loon at a distance of one mile from the earth, th separate paraschutes take a race for picked or whether he left his wallet in the carriage or dropped it on the street.

Sergeant R. N. Thomas, of the police court, had his pocket picked of a gold watch valued at about $50 in the vestibule of the Academy of Music. The robbery occurred as the sergeant was trying to wedge his way through the crowd into the hall. The entry at the time was blocked up with members of clubs and other academy. The thief was an adept, and secured the watch without attracting the attention of the officer. The chain was left hanging in its accustomed place.

Mr. Charles W. Wingfield, of the firm of Mr. Charles W. Wingfield, of the firm of Thomas Winn & Co., lost a gold watch. Hev. J. M. Filcher, of Petersburg, had his pocket, book stolen. It contained about $15 and valuable papers. Mr. W. H. Sands lost a pocketbook containing $15 and papers. It was stated yesterday that some gentleman, whose name is not known, lost a scarfpin valued at $100. The police were on the alert for the thieves yesterday, but it is more than probable the game has left the city for than probable the gang has left the city for the South.

Oh, What a Cough. Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning—the signal perhaps, of the sure approach of that more terrula disease, Consumption? Ask yourselves f you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cents, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a million of bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup and Whooping Cough at once. Mothers do not be without it. Sample bottles free. Sold by Bodeker Brothers and H. M. Shields & Co., corner of Fifth and Marshall streets.

TWO MEN BITTEN BY A MAD DOG.

Brilliant Reception-Two Sudden Deaths-Real Estate Men to Meet-North Carolina News.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 20 .- (Special.) - Colonel A. K. McClure, editor of the Philadelphia Times. who was expected to arrive here to-day to make an address at the Exposition, will not reach here till to morrow morning. He spent yesterday in Asheville, and, desiring to see the picturesque mountain scenery through that section by daylight, did not start eastward till this morning. By this schedule he will reach here to-morrow morning at an early hour.

He will deliver an address at the Exposition grounds at noon and at night he will speak at the convention of Northern settlers. He will be accompanied by several ladies and gentle-men from Philadelphia.

BIG DAY AT THE FAIR To-day was one of the liveliest days yet seen at the Exposition. Large numbers of people were to be seen on the grounds and in the buildings, and many came on this evening s iovernor Fleming, of Florida, will arrive tocovernor Feming, of Fiorida, will arrive to-night, and will be present on Florida days during the latter part of the week.

Slayor Thomas Endger to-day announced a reception commutee of fifty prominens citi-zens, who will meet all the prominent visitors and see that every attention and hospitality is shown them.

MAD-DOG EXCITEMENT.

An exciting mad dog sensation occurred late resterday evening. Just as the shop hands at the Raleigh and Gaston railroad were coming out from work a rabid dog made a dash among them and bit a colored man and snapped at several others, and then bit John Horton. Several of the men got bars of iron and made for the dog, when John Riddle killed him with a rock. Both of the men were badly bitten and much alarm was caused by the appearance of the dog. A company of amateur nistrionic talont was organized here to-day to present "Damon and Pythias" in this city during the Exposition. A theatrical trainer from New York has been engaged to instruct the company for the occasion. REAL ESTATE MEN TO MEET.

The argument of counsel was heard on the case this evening.

Two Sudden Deaths.

Winston, N. C., Oct. 2).—Two sudden deaths occurred in the county last night. One was a prominent and well-to-do farmer named Frederick Badford. He lay down in the afternoon to rest and when called to supper was found dead on the bed. The second was a popular young man. Mr. Charles Strube, who passed away suddenly at his boarding-house in Winston.

It is learned to-day that Embezzler J. M. Pendiston, who skipped from here last week to parts unknown, is something less than $400 short with the Western Union Telegraph Company. It is understood also that the company will not make any effort to capture him, as his bondsmen, who are relatives and personal friends of Pendleton, are good for the amount. The Twin City Club, which is short about $1,000 by his depar-ture, will be the only one to make an effort to capture him, if it does.

Mr. Baudell, of Raleigh, has been appointed manager of the office here.
